Large Format Printing in the Construction Industry

– Pros and Cons of Outsourcing

Do I need a Large Format Printer?

A faint, sepia-toned architectural drawing of a kitchen and dining area. In the top left, there is a circular dining table with four chairs. Below it, a kitchen layout is shown with a counter labeled 'F' and a dimension of '8'0"'. To the right of the counter is a stove labeled 'ST' with four burners. Further right is a sink area labeled 'D/W' (dishwasher) and a small rectangular area labeled 'd'. At the bottom, a toilet is visible in a bathroom area.

Factors to Consider

- Outsourcing Costs
- Convenience
- Productivity
- Employee Satisfaction

Examples of the costs...

200 'D' sized drawings per week of B&W printing.

Equates to about 5,000 square feet per month.

- Inside costs: approximately $700/month
- Outside costs: approximately $800 - $1,000 per month

Examples of the costs...

50 'D' sized drawings per week of B&W printing.

Equates to about 1,200 square feet per month.

- Inside costs: approximately $400/month
- Outside costs: approximately $200 - $300 per month
